

CDIAC TO RELEASE ISSUE BRIEF ON SWEEP ACCOUNTS

Barbara Tanaka
CDIAC Policy Research Unit

The California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission (CDIAC) soon will release an Issue Brief entitled The Use of Sweep Accounts by California Local Governments. Sweep accounts provide local governments and others with a means of earning interest income on unused cash that otherwise might sit idle in a zero-interest checking account. A sweep account acts as a “combination” account, linking a primary cash account with one or more secondary investment accounts, allowing funds to flow between them. Scheduled payments can be made from the liquid cash account while excess amounts over a predetermined balance can be transferred to short-term, interest-earning investments such as money market demand accounts and money market mutual funds. At the close of each business day, funds that exceed a certain “target balance” are automatically wired into one or more interest-earning investment accounts that have been pre-selected by the local agency. This “sweep” of funds maximizes the agency’s interest earnings while minimizing its involvement in day-to-day investment management. Typical sweep account providers include banks and brokerage firms, though terms, conditions, and costs vary among institutions.

The decision to use a sweep account comes with many choices. Not all local governments use them; those that do must determine the appropriate type of investment, necessary account services, and acceptable operational costs/fees for their agency. The Issue Brief addresses these factors as well as others such as transfer restrictions and monitoring. To provide additional context (albeit anecdotal), the Issue Brief also includes the results of an informal survey of local government sweep account usage. The survey was designed to gauge the use of sweep accounts by various-sized portfolios, the types of investment instruments used, and costs and other restrictions by both the banks and the local agencies. The survey was not constructed as an unbiased random sample of all California local governments; rather, it was a self-reported survey of local government investment officers, and thus, provides a collection of anecdotal viewpoints and practices from a small sample of local agencies. Selected responses are included in the body of the Issue Brief with a more complete tally of results presented in the Appendix.

SUCCESSFUL STRATEGIES FOR FINANCIAL PLANNING AND DEBT MANAGEMENT

Peter Shellenberger
Senior Managing Consultant, The PFM Group

The long-term financial plan is a well established tool in the capital intensive areas of public transportation and public utilities. In public transportation, for example, the federal government has long required that agencies requesting certain federal grant funds demonstrate their ability to finance current capital needs while meeting long-term operating, maintenance and capital renewal requirements over the next twenty years. The long-term financial plan, supported with a dynamic planning model, is the mechanism by which the agency demonstrates the near-term financing capacity and the long-term program feasibility.

While cities and counties have traditionally adopted a shorter planning horizon on capital implementation driven by near-

New Rules for Rating Agencies

The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has proposed a two-part set of reforms for credit rating agencies to bring increased transparency and accountability to the ratings process.¹ The proposed changes are intended to improve investor understanding of credit ratings through enhanced disclosure methods and performance data, and to promote investor confidence in the ratings by minimizing conflicts of interest. The first set of rules would limit credit agency conflicts of interest and increase their disclosure requirements. They include the following reforms:²

- Prohibit a credit rating agency from issuing a rating on a structured product unless information on the underlying assets is available.
- Prohibit credit rating agencies from structuring the same products that they rate.
- Require credit rating agencies to make all of their ratings and subsequent rating actions available to the public.
- Prohibit gifts from those who receive ratings to those who rate them in any amount over $25.
- Require disclosure by the rating agencies of the way they rely on the due diligence of others to verify the assets underlying a structured product.

The second set of proposed rules seeks to provide investors a means of differentiating between the ratings on bonds and structured products. To make this distinction, a credit rating agency would have two options: use symbols, such as an identifier, attached to a structured rating, or issue a report for each structured product that it rated that discloses the differences between the ratings of structured products and other securities.

The SEC will accept written comments on the proposed reforms for 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. The proposed reforms can be viewed on the SEC website, www.sec.gov.

Rating Agencies Agree to Reforms

Standard & Poor's, Moody's Investors Service, Inc., and FitchRatings, Inc., have reached an agreement with New York's Attorney General's Office that intends to increase the independence of the rating agencies, ensure that crucial loan data is provided to the agencies before they rate loan pools, and increase transparency throughout the rating industry. The agreement was the result of the Attorney General's investi-

The investigation raised issues about business practices in the RMBS market, including compensation practices. The investigation determined that because rating agencies were only compensated if they were selected to provide a rating on a loan pool, investment banks could hire the agency that provided the best rating.³ To address this issue, the credit rating agencies will implement the following reforms:

- Establish a fee-for-service structure, where they will be compensated regardless of whether they are selected to rate a RMBS.
- Disclose information about all securitizations submitted for their initial review to enable investors to determine whether issuers sought, but subsequently decided not to use, ratings from a credit rating agency.
- Perform an annual review of their RMBS businesses to identify practices that could compromise their independent ratings.

In addition, the Attorney General's investigation found that credit rating agencies were not privy to pertinent due diligence information that investment banks had about the mortgages comprising the loan pools. The rating agencies will implement reforms that establish due diligence criteria for reviewing mortgage lenders, loan origination processes, and information on underlying mortgages submitted by investment bank and other financially responsible parties.

Additional information on the agreement can be found on the New York Attorney General's website, www.oag.state.ny.us.

Bond Insurers Downgraded

Standard & Poor's (S&P) lowered its financial strength ratings on Ambac Assurance Corp. and MBIA Insurance Corp. to 'AA' from 'AAA' and placed both bond insurers on CreditWatch with negative implications. MBIA and Ambac are two of the largest monoline bond insurers as measured by the amount of insured debt outstanding. The downgrades were attributed to the "insurers' lack of new business prospects, poor financial flexibility," and a further decline in the residential mortgage market.⁴

In general, the bond insurance industry suffered from credit related write-downs and the loss of business over the past six months. Rating downgrades indicate a higher risk of default. Rating agencies cited rising defaults on residential mortgages.

¹The SEC was granted the authority to promulgate rules regarding public disclosure, recordkeeping and financial reporting, and substantive requirements designed to ensure that nationally recognized statistical rating organizations (NRSROs) conduct their activities with integrity and impartiality with implementation of the Credit Rating Agency Reform Act of 2006, Senate Bill 3850, 2005-2006 Session (109th Congress).

²The full set of proposed reforms can viewed online at www.sec.gov.

³Residential mortgage-backed securities are bonds issued by large financial institutions backed by pools of individual home mortgages.

They worried that bond insurers will face a spike in claim payments as bonds backed by those mortgages are likely to default. The rise in claims could cut into cash reserves for some bond insurers and may put others out of business.

Increased U.S. Muni Market Activity

Volume in the U.S. municipal market for the month of May was the third busiest on record. During the month, more than $37.2 billion in debt was sold through 933 issues. While one of the busiest months on record, May 2008 activity reflected a 13 percent decrease from May 2007's record volume of $43 billion, according to data from Thomson Reuters.

Variable-rate bonds saw increased activity in May 2008 as issuers restructured their auction-rate securities with the issuance of over $15.6 billion of variable-rate debt, a 315 percent increase over May 2007 ($3.8 billion issued). Refundings also increased for the month with $11.9 billion issued through 219 deals compared to $8.4 billion in May 2007. Fixed-rated issuance for May 2008 ($21.1 billion), however, was $11.3 billion less than May 2007.

The recent turmoil surrounding the bond insurance industry was reflected in credit enhancement volume totals for the month. Thomson Reuters data shows that letters of credit (LOCs) and standby bond purchase agreements were used on $12.4 billion worth of deals in May, while bond insurance was used on only $7.6 billion of issuance. The $8.8 billion of LOCs represented an increase of 476.4 percent from $1.5 billion in May 2007, while standby bond purchase agreements added $3.6 billion in liquidity for the month, compared to $836.5 million last year. According to The Bond Buyer, this increase is despite the fact that costs for liquidity facilities have increased in response to the problems in the bond insurance.

Year-to-date bond issuance volume for 2008 totaled $173.4 billion, which was below the $184 billion sold between January and May 2007. Additional bond market data may be accessed online at The Bond Buyer website (a subscription service), www.bondbuyer.com.

This bill would require that a resolution issued pursuant to the Marks-Roos Local Bond Pooling Act of 1985 relating to bonds, be adopted by the local agency during a regular meeting. This bill would allow the Controller to cease compiling and publishing transactions reported under these provisions, if the Controller does not receive sufficient funding to do so. This bill would require, until June 30, 2012, the California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission to reimburse the Controller through an interagency agreement for actual costs, not to exceed $200,000 per fiscal year, incurred by the Controller to implement and maintain these provisions.

Perata Court Facilities: Financing

The Trial Court Facilities Act of 2002 establishes the State Court Facilities Construction Fund and provides that moneys in that fund may be used to acquire, rehabilitate, construct, or finance court facilities, as defined, and to implement trial court projects in designated counties, as specified. This bill would extend the purposes for which moneys in that fund may be used to include the planning, design, construction, rehabilitation, replacement, leasing, or acquisition of court facilities. The bill would establish the Immediate and Critical Needs Account of the State Court Facilities Construction Fund, the proceeds of which would be used for the planning, design, construction, rehabilitation, renovation, replacement, or acquisition of court facilities, for the repayment of moneys appropriated for lease of court facilities pursuant to the issuance of lease-revenue bonds, and for the payment for lease or rental of court facilities. Existing law authorizes the State Public Works Board to issue revenue bonds, negotiable notes, or negotiable bond anticipation notes to finance the cost of the construction or renovation and the equipping of public buildings and facilities, as specified. The revenues, rentals, or receipts from the public buildings or facilities or equipment authorized by these provisions is pledged to the payment of the principal of, and the interest on, the certificates, revenue bonds, notes, or anticipation notes issued for that financing. The Legislature is required to authorize the total amount that may be financed. This bill would authorize the State Public Works Board to issue lease-revenue bonds, notes, or bond anticipation notes pursuant to these provisions in an amount not to exceed $5.0 billion to finance the planning, design, construction, rehabilitation, renovation, replacement, leasing, or acquisition of court facilities, as specified. The bill would require the Judicial Council to make recommendations to the Governor and the Legislature for projects based on its determination that the need for a project is most immediate and critical. The bill would make other conforming changes. As the bill contains urgency provisions, it would become law upon the Governor's signature.

- SB 1665 Machado Prison Construction
Existing law establishes the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation, and charges it with various duties in regard to the custody of prisoners, including medical care. Existing law has authorized the issuance of bonds for various prison construction projects. This bill would create the Prison Health Care Construction Program, which would be administered by the Medical Care Receiver. The bill would authorize $6.9 billion in revenue bonds to address the need to design and construct improvements to existing facilities and to design and construct health-related facilities and housing for approximately 10,000 inmates with medical or mental health needs, and would appropriate $100.0 million from the General Fund to the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation for certain of those purposes. The bill would make findings and declarations in connection to the Prison Health Care Construction Program. As the bill contains urgency provisions, it would become law upon the Governor's signature.

This measure would require that the proceeds from the sale of any general obligation bond that, on or after January 1, 2009, is approved by the voters for issuance pursuant to these provisions be expended only for the costs of construction or acquisition of tangible physical property that has an expected useful life at least equal to the length of time in which the bonds that are sold to finance that construction or acquisition will reach maturity.

- SCA 8 Harman Appropriations Limit
Among other things, this bill would prohibit the state from incurring general obligation bond debt greater than the total amount of state bond debt in existence when this measure becomes operative. This limit would be adjusted annually to account for changes in population and the cost of living. This measure also would prohibit bond brokers from recovering their expenses from a campaign waged in support of the bond measure through their fees and commissions on the sale of the bonds from that bond measure.

The California Constitution prohibits any ad valorem tax on real property from exceeding one percent of the full cash value of the property, subject to certain exceptions. This measure would create an additional exception to the one percent limit on ad valorem tax on real property for a city, county, or city and county to pay for bonded indebtedness incurred to fund essential services buildings and local emergency and public safety buildings, and related costs, if approved by 55 percent of the voters of the city, county, or city and county. The California Constitution prohibits a city or county from incurring any indebtedness exceeding in one year the income and revenue provided in that year, without the approval of two-thirds of the voters. This measure would lower the voter approval threshold to 55 percent for a city, county, or city and county to incur bonded indebtedness, exceeding in one year the income and revenue provided in that year, that is in the form of general obligation bonds to fund the costs described above for essential services buildings and local emergency and public safety buildings. In addition, this measure offers other provisions.

Committee on Local Government Local Government Omnibus Act of 2008

Each year, local officials discover problems with the state statutes that affect counties, cities, special districts, and redevelopment agencies, as well as the laws on land use planning and development. These minor problems do not warrant separate (and expensive) bills. The Senate Local Government Committee responds by combining several of these minor topics into an annual “omnibus bill.” Therefore, in addition to the change below, this bill includes other provisions.

Existing law requires local governments to provide annual statements of investment policies, and quarterly investment reports to the California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission, as specified. This bill would repeal that requirement.

Existing law, until December 31, 2009, authorizes special districts to issue securitized limited obligation notes, as specified. This bill would extend that authorization to December 31, 2014.

Existing law requires the issuer of any new debt issue of state or local government to submit a report of final sale, within 45 days after the signing of the bond purchase contract or acceptance of a bid in a competitive offering, to the California Debt and Advisory Commission, as specified. This bill would also require the issuer of any proposed new debt issue of state or local government to give written notice of a proposed sale, no later than 30 days prior to the sale of any debt issue at private or public sale, to the commission, as specified.

Existing law authorizes a local agency to invest specified funds into, among other things, bonds issued by the local agency, United States Treasury notes, bonds, bills, or certificates of indebtedness, or registered state warrants or treasury notes or bonds of this state. This bill would correct various incorrect statutory cross references to these provisions.

SUCCESSFUL STRATEGIES

term budget capacity; that is changing. The long-term financial plan is becoming increasingly important for capital asset management and strategic debt management for all municipalities. It is used internally for resource allocation and project prioritization and externally to meet the information needs of investors, credit providers and rating agencies. As noted by FitchRatings below, financial market participants are increasingly calling for municipalities to establish a long-term capital plan to strategically consider their debt affordability:

“Fitch believes that debt affordability is best viewed in the context of a comprehensive assessment of capital needs. Although a government may not have the financial or operational means to fund all desired projects, identifying those projects creates a basis for prioritizing and seeking possible funding sources for them. Quantifying the amount of debt the tax base can support enables an entity to determine the scope and limits of immediate, medium-term, and long-term capital plans (FitchRatings, To Bond or Not To Bond: Debt Affordability Guidelines and Their Impact on Credit, June 21, 2005).”

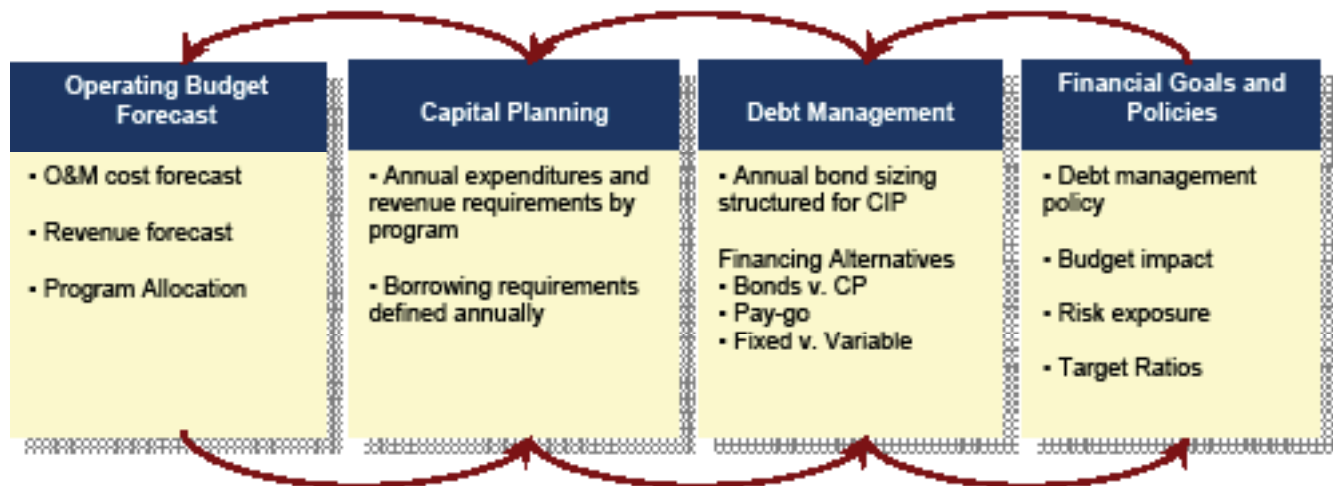

Financial planning is an essential component of the issuer’s overall debt issuance and financing program. A comprehensive financial modeling effort with bond structuring capability can provide a flexible tool for municipalities to perform financial alternatives analysis. This article describes an approach and methodology to financial planning, presents a set of sample results, and discusses steps for implementation.

Approach & Methodology

Uncertainty is inherent in any long-term financial forecast. The purpose of the long-term financial plan is not to remove uncertainty, but rather to identify it so that the program may be appropriately responsive and effectively managed. A long-term financial planning model is the tool used to identify the “pressure points” of a capital program and perform alternatives analysis.

The financial model should be flexible, interactive, and should account for operating and maintenance costs, capital costs, alternative delivery schedules, policy goals and objectives. The financial model needs to be sufficiently robust with line-item detail to support meaningful results, yet also focused towards clear and specific recommendations. This enables decision-makers to both understand the complexity of each singular decision and the broad impact of their choices. Within this framework, financing and bond structuring alternatives may be modeled and a recommendation selected based on programmatic impacts as well as current market conditions. A sample model structure with its iterative relationship across components is presented below.

Financial Planning Model Structure

Through an iterative process where funding needs are rationalized against program capacity a “preferred alternative” is identified. Generally, capital expenditures are first paid with available revenues on a pay-go basis, and remaining expenditures are met with bond financing, if necessary. In this manner, borrowing costs are minimized by first spending cash, and bond financing allows for project acceleration when annual revenues are insufficient.

The financial analysis prepared for the financial plan is a cashflow analysis: revenues and expenditures are recorded as they are received and spent, respectively. Annual revenues that are remaining at the end of a fiscal year are carried forward to the next year in the form of a fund balance. A fund balance may be drawn down to meet cash needs on an as needed basis.

Sample Results

The sample approach above begins with the development of an Excel-based, customized long-term financial planning model which incorporates revenue forecasts, capital requirements, policy goals (such as fund balance targets), and future debt issuance to determine the impact of alternative financing decisions on a municipality's overall financial position. The long-term planning model should be user-friendly and serve as a real-time planning tool for staff. An abbreviated set of results and output is presented below.

Capital Costs

The sample results begin with annual capital costs to determine funding needs. While the model typically contains detailed data of annual capital costs by project, output from that model should be intuitive and easy to comprehend for stakeholders. Within this context, alternative capital costs and delivery schedules and their impacts on budget capacity may be examined. A sample is presented to the right.

Projected Capital Expenditures: 2007- 2025

Program Revenues

Next, available capital revenues are identified and forecast through the planning horizon. Detailed growth assumptions are tested along with their impact on program deliverability. A primary focal point of the financial model is transparency of defensible assumptions. While all revenue forecast assumptions are generally detailed in the financing model, a sample summary output of projected revenues is presented to the right.

Revenues Available for CIP Program

Financing Requirements

Capital program costs are then rationalized against annual capital revenues to determine financing requirements. Pay-go financing is first used to minimize borrowing costs and bond financing is determined thereafter. Credit considerations regarding the strength and reliability of projected revenues are factored into the financing strategies. A sample summary output describing the breakdown of pay-go funding vs. bond proceeds is presented here.

Capital Funding Sources
Pay-Go & Bond Proceeds

Borrowing Costs and Capacity

Once financing needs are determined, debt structure alternatives may be examined (e.g. level debt service or ascending debt service as pictured here). Program feasibility will be measured in terms of sufficient cash flow to pay annual debt service, maintain a positive fund balance every year and meet debt service coverage targets. A sample of the summary debt service output and coverage calculations is presented to the right.

Through an iterative modeling process, changes to capital expenditures, project delivery schedules and revenue forecasts can be examined along with their impact on a municipality's borrowing requirements and annual budgetary capacity. As cities and counties apply this strategic framework to manage their own capital funding needs they will want to specify results according to their own policy objectives and meaningful metrics such as:

- Annual debt service as a percentage of general fund revenues and/or expenditures
- Total debt per capita
- Total debt per assessed valuation

Ongoing Management of the Financial Plan

The long-term financial plan is designed to be a flexible guide, providing a “road map” for the most effective completion and delivery of the projects approved by stakeholders. Because construction schedules, project costs, available revenues and local project priorities may change during the course of the program, the financial plan is designed to be adaptable to future changes. Indeed, the development and ongoing management of the financial plan is as much “process” as it is results. Through a coherent planning process, information is shared across departments (e.g. engineering and budget) and priorities are established through stakeholder information sessions and workshops. The final product is a visionary and living document that is periodically updated to reflect the changing resources and evolving values of a community.

MELLO-ROOS AND MARKS-ROOS YEARLY FISCAL STATUS REPORTS DUE BY OCTOBER 30th

Mello-Roos Community Facilities Districts (CFDs) selling bonds after January 1, 1993 and Marks-Roos Local Bond Pools (both authority and local obligations) issuing debt after January 1, 1996 are required to file a Yearly Fiscal Status (YFS) Report with the California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission (CDIAC) by October 30th of each year.

Statute requires Mello-Roos CFD bond issuers to report specific information on each bond issue, including fund balances, assessed values, and reported delinquencies or draws on reserves. Marks-Roos pooled participants file YFS Reports providing specific information on the year-end fund balances for principal amount of the issuance, reserves, construction and capitalized interest funds, assessed valuation, delinquency, and foreclosure information.

As a reminder, if there are any occurrences of default or draw, Sections 6599.1(c) and 53359.5(c) of the California Government Code require that any Marks-Roos and/or Mello-Roos bond participant, including all authorities and local obligors that issue bonds or receive loans (regardless of when sold), must report to CDIAC any occurrence of a non-payment of principal and interest (default) or use of reserve funds (draw) to make principal and interest payments. The data should state the scheduled date the default or draw on reserve occurred, the amount of the default or draw, and any information about the issue that would be of value to those receiving the information. This information must be filed within ten days of the event. CDIAC has developed a form (Draw on Reserves/Default Form for Mello-Roos/Marks-Roos Issue) to assist filers in providing this information.

CDIAC offers on-line reporting of all its forms, including the YFS Report and the Draw on Reserves/Default Form for Mello-Roos/Marks-Roos Issue, through its website. To access and electronically file this information, filers will need the CDIAC number and identification (ID) for the issue. This information is unique to each filing and must be used for any subsequent reporting under this CDIAC number. Internet forms can be electronically filed at www.treasurer.ca.gov/cdiac/reporting.asp. If you are interested in filing online and do not have the access information, please contact CDIAC to get the CDIAC number and ID.

Reports can still be sent to CDIAC via the U.S. mail, using PDF forms located on its website. The forms may be downloaded from www.treasurer.ca.gov/cdiac/reporting_mail.asp. In addition, forms can be electronically sent to CDIAC at CDIACIssuance@treasurer.ca.gov. For additional information, please contact CDIAC at (916) 653-3269.
